Propman Web Access provides:

Tenant Web Access

Enables tenants to log on and access information and documents relating to their properties including the ability to view and download statements of account. There is also the ability to create tailored "Contact Us" e-mail forms for use by tenants. These features provide a quick and efficient way of communicating with tenants around the clock.

Client Web Access

Client Web Access allows managing agents to offer additional services to their clients by providing them with access to their property portfolio and the ability to download financial statements.

Propman User Web Access

This allows real-time access to property and accounting information from any location. Propman Web Access users can also create and update property maintenance events within the main Propman Windows database.

Propman Windows version

Written by Grosvenor Systems, Propman is one of the leading integrated property management and financial accounting systems on the market. Flexible, easy to use with robust accounting controls, it efficiently manages all aspects of property ownership and occupation.
